

Coaching Report

Participant first name	ABC	Participant last name	ABC
Participant ID	abc@abccompany.com	Schedule name	Business Analysis Readiness Assessment
Date/time finished	Sep 19 2011 14:45:46	Grade	100%
Total score	50	Maximum score	50

Question	Outcome chosen	Correct answer	Score
Peachtree Financial is planning to expand and migrate its Information Technology (IT) infrastructure in order to support rapid customer growth. The business analyst drafted a preliminary solution scope statement and developed a high-level implementation approach. What else is an essential part of a preliminary solution scope definition?	Survey of the major stakeholders, including process owners and IT management	Survey of the major stakeholders, including process owners and IT management	1	✓
Which of the following best defines the System Development Life Cycle (SDLC)?	A flexible methodology that allows organizations to adapt and respond quickly to change	A flexible methodology that allows organizations to adapt and respond quickly to change	1	✓
You are eliciting requirements for a project that will enable Greentree Financial to use customized accounting software to access a proprietary database. What is an effective approach for eliciting requirements regarding how the two systems should connect?	Application to Application interface analysis	Application to Application interface analysis	1	✓
You have been eliciting requirements for a new dispatcher process at Stanley Transport. As part of your requirements gathering, you have discovered that dispatchers in different geographies do the same work differently.	Create a business domain model that documents the variances in the as-is model	Create a business domain model that documents the variances in the as-is model	1	✓
How do you document these to ensure that the new process takes into account these differences?
The technical team developing a financial solution for Greentree Financial discovers some technical constraints that require delaying the implementation of Feature F6 until Release 2.	It shows the impact of dropping a feature and allows the team to assess the tradeoffs	It shows the impact of dropping a feature and allows the team to assess the tradeoffs	1	✓
Why is it useful to track this change on a traceability matrix?
The Call Center Software Upgrade Project is nearing completion. You recognize the implementation of the software will have significant impact on the call center's operation and organization. You want to understand the effect the software will have and whether the call center is ready for the operational and organizational change that will occur.	Define Transition Requirements	Define Transition Requirements	1	✓